IRS approves DRS proposal on TRS Plan 3 contribution rates

DRS recently received approval from the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) to provide an annual window for Teachers' Retirement System (TRS) Plan 3 members to change their contribution rates. DRS will seek executive request legislation during the 2003 session to authorize this change in state law. IRS approval of the DRS proposal opens the way for DRS to seek similar IRS approval for School Employees' Retirement System (SERS) Plan 3 and Public Employees' Retirement System (PERS) Plan 3 this summer.

The IRS must approve the SERS and PERS Plan 3 requests, and the legislature must enact the executive request legislation before DRS can implement these changes.

Given these approvals, the first open window for Plan 3 members to change their contribution rates is anticipated to be January 2004.

Under current state law, a member's choice of contribution rate is irrevocable unless the member changes employers. DRS has received numerous requests since the inception of TRS Plan 3 in 1996 to provide Plan 3 members with some flexibility to change their contribution rates. DRS worked with the Employee Retirement Benefits Board to develop the proposal that was submitted to the IRS as part of the formal TRS 3 plan qualification process.

Under this proposal an additional contribution rate has been added to the basic rate of 5 percent. This provides members with the flexibility to contribute amounts that will help them achieve their retirement goals. When added together, the rates equal the six options currently provided to Plan 3 members. See the proposed contribution rate table on the next page.

The first steps to developing an investment strategy

The best advice in retirement planning is to begin early. The earlier in your career that you develop an investment strategy the more flexibility you have in its execution.

* The Bond Market Index Fund closed on August 31, 2000. Investments were transferred to the Washington State Bond Fund. Performance shown is from its September 1, 2000 inception date.

The TRS Plan 3 Self-Directed Index and Money Market Funds' inception dates were in May 1997. Investment returns for periods prior to that date were constructed using the underlying Funds' gross return and deducting current fees and expenses associated with each fund as if the fund had been in existence for the five-year period. The Horizon Funds were created for Washington State TRS Plan 3 participants in September 2000. The U.S. Stock Market Index Fund commenced September 1996 and has no investment performance history prior to that date. Please refer to the Plan 3 Investment Guide or the Web site <http://www.icmarc.org/trs/investing> for additional fund information and estimated long-term performance.

All returns are net of fees. Self-Directed funds are valued daily; your account balance and rate of return will vary accordingly. Past performance is no guarantee of future results. For more information about the funds please see the Plan 3 Investment Guide.

Returns cover the period ending June 30, 2002.

N/A - Not Applicable

1. Estimate your expenses at retirement. The amount of guesswork here depends greatly on how far off retirement is and the expenses you expect to have. Will you have mortgage payments? Do you expect to travel a great deal? Will you have any dependents?
2. Identify your sources of retirement income and estimate the amount you will have available for monthly expenses (Social Security, IRAs, Deferred Compensation accounts, savings, your defined benefit, etc.).
3. Calculate the difference between your retirement expenses and your estimated income. This will require you to make an assessment of how much your investments should earn to meet your expectations and how much risk you are willing to take.

If there is a significant negative difference between projected income and projected expenses, you need to consider two things: committing more income to retirement investments, or reducing your expenses in retirement. Once you have determined your course, it is important to periodically revisit the three steps, assess your progress, and, if necessary, make adjustments.

Changing investment programs and allocations

As a TRS Plan 3 member, you have the flexibility to move all or part of your funds between the Washington State Investment Board (WSIB) Investment Program and the Self-Directed Investment Program. The WSIB Investment Program has a predetermined investment portfolio called the Total Allocation Portfolio (TAP). In the Self-Directed Investment Program, you can select from a variety of investment types and freely move your money from one investment type to another.

Although you may move your money between the two investment programs, your monthly contributions can be sent to only one investment program. To change the investment program that your contributions are sent to, complete a Plan 3 Change of Investment Program form. These forms are available from your employer and also may be accessed via the Internet (<http://www.icmarc.org/plan3/>). Once completed, a Change of Investment Program form should be submitted to your employer.

If your contributions are directed to the Self-Directed Investment Program, you may change how they are allocated within the program by accessing your account via the Internet (<http://www.icmarc.org/plan3/>). You can transfer money between the WSIB and Self-Directed Investment Programs by contacting ICMA-RC Investor Services at 1-888-711-8773.

Requests for payment of funds should be directed to ICMA Retirement Corporation (ICMA-RC)

If you separate from TRS employment, you have the option to withdraw your defined contribution investment funds. To initiate payment you need a Request for Payment of Defined Contribution Funds. This informational packet provides a variety of information about your tax obligations and includes the form you must complete to take payment.

Unless you roll your funds directly to a qualified retirement plan or an IRA, federal taxes will be deducted from the payment. If you are under age 59½, an additional penalty for early withdrawal may be required. Payment cannot be made until ICMA-RC receives notice of termination of employment from your employer.

The Request for Payment of Defined Contribution Funds packet can be obtained by calling ICMA-RC toll-free at 1-888-711-8773, by e-mailing InvestorServices@icmarc.org, or downloaded from the ICMA-RC Web site (<http://www.icmarc.org/trs/pubs/>).
